Diversified Building Services Launches Food Processing Sanitation Group

Wallingford, CT January 13, 2021 – Diversified Building Services, DBS, announces their new Food Processing Sanitation Group.

“We are pleased to now offer cleaning services to food processing plants. Our structured and disciplined approach to our cleaning operations allows DBS to seamlessly integrate into food production facilities.”, stated Stan Bialecki, Director of Business Development. “We have chosen to partner with our colleagues at Spartan Chemical Company to implement their Food Sanitation Program.”

“Proper sanitation within food processing plants is critical for meeting safety standards. Poor brand reputation due to outbreaks and recalls causes significant challenges to the very best food processing teams. DBS now offers complete food processing sanitation to production plants or can supply the needed supervised labor to support in house sanitation operations.”

“Spartan’s goal, as we mutually work together with DBS, is to earn a strategic partnership with clients’ sanitation programs, by focusing to protect client’s brands”, states Christopher A. Celusta, Director of Food Processing Sanitation at Spartan Chemical Company.

“Working with DBS to implement Spartan’s systems by focusing on increasing productivity...providing cost efficiencies (proper training...demonstrating proper applications of products) and the use of Spartan’s hands on training to make people’s jobs easier to perform, without compromising the integrity, quality, and wholesomeness with your finished product. With over 20 years of dedicated service/support in Food Sanitation, we welcome the chance to use this experience, combined with all of our resources to produce a Best in Class program.”
